To the Graduating Class of 1979:

Although you people are looking back on an experience involving a relatively few years at Southeastern, I am conscious of the fact that your graduation this year represents more than a decade of operation of the Southeastern Regional Vocational Technical High School.

In September of 1967, Southeastern was opened as a new high school for an incoming group of students. While the years have flown by, many significant things have happened and you have shared such happenings. It is important that for years Southeastern has been affecting the lives of many people. Several students who started their careers at Southeastern years ago are now married, parents, people who have been part of the working world for years and, in some cases, successful owners of businesses.

Just as they started a marvelous experience in vocational education when they opened the doors of Southeastern years ago, you are carrying on the tradition of a growing, expanding Southeastern. You have contributed much to your school.

It is my fervent hope that the school has given much to you and, if so, will be a part of your cherished memories for the rest of your lives.

Best wishes for a successful future.

Very truly yours,

Donald E. Graves

You came to Southeastern with the ability to build and create things. Four years have passed and you carry away with you training that identifies you as vocational young men and women who will serve society through your talents.

It is my hope that along with your training you take many good memories of your teachers, your friends, and the good times that you had. In each experience you have given and you have received and for that we have all benefited. Now you face the world of work and its responsibilities, and I am confident that you will be as successful as you have been during your years at Southeastern.

I congratulate you and wish every success and happiness in this your new beginning.
